CONGRATULATIONS!

Dr. Rumela Bhadra, research associate in BAE, has been selected as one of the 2014 New Faces of Engineering which was announced at the ASABE Agricultural Equipment Technology Conference February 10-12 in Louisville, Kentucky. Congratulations, Dr. Bhadra, in being recognized for your hard work in demonstrating the varied and inspiring ways in which agricultural and biological engineers are making a difference!

Biosystems Engineering senior, Emma Brace, was one of ten K-State students invited to participate in the Kansas Undergraduate Research Day at the Capitol on February 12 in Topeka. Emma presented her work to legislators and other government members alongside peers from other public four-year universities in Kansas. Emma completed her research under the guidance of Dr. Lisa Wilken.

Emma Brace, BSE senior, is one of five national finalists in the 2014 Biological Engineering Bioethics Competition. Her essay "Biodefense: Looking Back and Moving Forward" was selected by a faculty panel for presentation on March 8th during the 2014 Institute of Biological Engineering Annual Meeting in Lexington, Kentucky. After completion of the oral competition, a panel of judges will select the top three for cash awards. Dr. Lisa Wilken is the co-chair for the 2014 Institute of Biological Engineering Bioethics Competition. Good luck, Emma!
